The effects of naloxone, a narcotic antagonist, on ethanol withdrawal signs and symptoms were assessed in male Sprague-Dawley rats. Prior to the beginning of ethanol administration, each animal was implanted with a Chronic Draconian Strain II, Minimitter transducer and a jugular venous catheter and allowed to acclimate for a 10-day period. On Day 0, animals were randomly divided into two groups (n = 10 per group) and offered a single intragastric injection of ethanol (3 g/kg, i.p.) or saline. After 60 min, animals were injected with naloxone (2.5 mg/kg, i.p.) or saline. The ethanol-induced withdrawal syndrome consisted of elevated body temperature, diarrhea, and tremor. With naloxone pretreatment, in response to ethanol, there were no significant differences from saline control for any withdrawal sign.Q: Rails - Heroku - Errors Rails.root.join('tmp/pids/pids.sock') I'm on Windows using Capistrano v 2.15.5, Ruby 2.3.2, Ruby 1.9.3, Passenger v5.0.45 with a newly deployed Rails app. I was running on a Linux virtual machine and deployed via Capistrano just fine. I was reading a Rails App Deployment article by Heroku and it uses the Windows tool CCleaner to clean up temporary files such as.tmp,.pids, and more. I run

The humpback dolphin (Sousa chinensis) is a member of Delphinidae, a family of cetaceans (whale and dolphins). The complete mitochondrial genome of this dolphin species was reconstructed. It was 16,582 bp in length and its base composition was 31.1% for A, 24.6% for C, 29.2% for G, and 16.0% for T. The gene arrangement and order were similar to other delphinid mitochondrial genomes. The tRNA genes were entirely consistent with other cetacean mitochondrial genomes.

The detailed analysis of 13 protein-coding genes indicated that most of the nucleotides in cetacean mitochondrial genomes were encoded on heavy strand, except ND1, ND3, and ND5 were encoded on light strand. The overall nucleotide sequence of the mitochondrial genome of humpback dolphin has provided useful tools for phylogenetic analysis and studies on biology and evolution.Q: Zend Framework 2 Authentication Service I have a question on Zend Framework 2 Authentication Service. I am trying to create a service that is separate to the controllers, to deal with our Auth flow to our API. The idea is that the service will be there for us to rewrite an old controller that is being directly mapped to an action. I would then like to have this in a service so that I can place it anywhere to test:

$loginService = $this->getServiceLocator()
```
